

James Wilson was a soldier of South Carolina troops during the revolution. His daughter stated that he was mortally wounded in the Battle at the Cowpens. Perhaps he was wounded there. General Andrew Pickens, however, recorded that Wilson was killed in May 1781. Robert Bell deposed that James Wilson was killed near Ninety Six while serving under Colonel Joseph Hayes.